GOP Campaign for Economy Said To Be Floundering

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican economy campaign is floundering in Congress but Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen says it will continue.

Not since Dirksen led the successful fight to cut the foreign aid authorization by $250 million have the Republicans been able to enlist enough Democratic allies to make any substantial spending reductions.

Last Friday they even fell off the economy wagon in voting almost to a man to add new authority for $900 million in college dormitory loans to an omnibus housing bill.

In this instance the GOP members could claim that this wasn't really an expenditure, since such loans eventually will be repaid. But the money comes out of the hide of President Johnson's current spending budget and the administration fought the move.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., who contends that new construction projects only add to the inflationary pressures about which Republicans have been complaining loudly, was the only member of his party to oppose the amendment.

Dirksen said in an interview he recognizes the difficulty of cutting back on projects which promise local benefits for states and communities.

"So many of these programs operate almost automatically so that it's like getting plums off a tree without even reaching for them," he said. "And even Republicans like plums."

When debate begins today on the administration's mass transit bill Dirksen said there will be efforts to reduce the first year's proposed outlays from $150 million to $100 million. He said these will be linked with moves to spare second-year outlays from $225 million to $150 million.

In this instance the Republican economists will be fighting only a rear guard action. They will be for mass transit aid but at a slower pace than the Democrats.

Another core measure of the Johnson Great Society program, to put $900 million into "demonstration cities" over a two-year period, seems likely to face a frontal assault from the Republicans.

Dem Platform Panel To Stress Education

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Democratic Party's Platform Committee completed public hearings over the weekend with word from its chairman that "the big push is in education."

Chairman Richard E. Guggenheim of Cincinnati assigned State Sen. Oliver Ocasak of Akron to draft planks on education and finances. The committee's proposals will go before the State Democratic Convention here Aug. 26-27.

Air Strike Accord Reached

Airmobile Unit, Viet Reds Clash

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. military command reported that a battalion of the 1st Cavalry (Airmobile) Division clashed in heavy action with a battalion of North Vietnamese troops in the Chu Pong Mountains near the Cambodian border 18 miles southwest of Plei Me.

The fighting erupted Sunday and broke off at noon today. A U.S. spokesman said American casualties were light. North Vietnamese casualties were not known.

The air offensive over North Viet Nam continued without let-up. U.S. Air Force, Marine and Navy planes flew 108 missions Sunday striking against 14 petroleum depots, aircraft gun positions, cargo barges and rail traffic.

Two U.S. planes were shot down by Communist gunfire, and both pilots were reported missing. North Viet Nam's official news agency said four U.S. planes were brought down Sunday.

A U.S. spokesman said both planes were F105 Thunderchiefs. One went down 50 miles north of Hanoi and the other 60 miles north of the Communist capital.

The two losses raised to 17 the number of American planes shot down in eight days and to 339 the number announced lost in the two-year-old air war over North Viet Nam. Last week's toll — 15 planes — was a record for a one-week period.

American forces were beefed up over the weekend by the arrival of the 196th Light Infantry Brigade, 3,800 men trained at Ft. Devens, Mass., in anti-guerrilla warfare. The arrival pushed the total of U.S. fighting men in South Viet Nam to 292,000.

Chicago Cops, Whites Clash

Rioters Spurred By Nazi Speaker

CHICAGO (AP) — Club-swinging police were bombarded with curses, bottles and rocks as they clashed Sunday night with hundreds of whites protesting marches by civil rights supporters. At least 16 persons were injured and 21 arrested.

The outbreaks followed three separate parades earlier by some 1,000 civil rights advocates protesting alleged discrimination by real estate firms.

One march was held on the Northwest Side and two within blocks of Marquette Park, an expanse of grass and playgrounds where whites, spurred by an American Nazi party rally, baited police with chants of "nigger lover," and stoned automobiles occupied by Negroes.

Police arrested 21 persons at the three marches and Marquette Park riot. At least 16 persons were injured during the four separate incidents. Five of the injured were policemen.

Some 70 motorcycles, adorned with American flags, streamed into the park and were applauded by more than a thousand persons who had gathered to protest the demonstration at Gage Park and to hear a representative of the American Nazi party.

Fewer than a dozen policemen were stationed at the park. They were taunted by the crowd.

John Patler of the American Nazi party stood on a park bench urging the white crowd to assert itself.

"Japan is controlled by the Japanese, Israel is controlled by the Jews and America should be controlled by the whites," Patler shouted.

With each reference to Negroes by Patler, the crowd screamed: "White power! White power! White power!"

As Patler ended his talk, a busload of police arrived. They were greeted by hoots and profanities. A barrage of beer bottles came from the crowd. Several struck the bus and one smashed a window, showering the police with glass.

The police rushed from the bus firing shots in the air as they pursued the fleeing crowd.

Air Accord Takes Heat Off Solons

WASHINGTON (AP)—Apparent settlement of the airlines strike gave House members a chance today to drop a political hot potato—a measure to halt the 39-day walkout.

The strike measure already has passed the Senate and House leader had hoped to have it ready for floor action Tuesday or Wednesday.

But negotiators reached agreement in the dispute early today and it was taken for granted the House Rules Committee would take its time on the bill pending the outcome of a vote by the striking machinists on the proposed contract.

The House has an assortment of odd and ends on today's docket, ranging from financing the Federal National Mortgage Association to boosting fees for migratory bird hunting.

The House also plan to act during the week on a mass transportation bill, separate automobile and highway safety measures already passed by the Senate and a Senate-passed rural community development bill.

This week's Senate program calls for floor action on a House-passed $58.6 billion defense appropriation, a bill to start massive program of housing and renewal projects in selected cities and a House-passed measure to increase minimum wages and broaden coverage.

2 More Viet Towns Attacked By Mistake

9 Villagers Die, 50 Are Hurt in Military Errors

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Military spokesmen reported today two more apparently mistaken attacks on friendly villages in South Viet Nam.

In the first, five villagers were reported killed and 15 wounded in the Mekong Delta Friday. In the second, four civilians were killed and 35 wounded Saturday in the southern part of the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam.

Two other erroneous attacks last week had been reported earlier.

The circumstances of the attack in the Mekong Delta were not clear. A U.S. military spokesman said it had not been determined whether the casualties were caused by aircraft or artillery. He said the villagers were caught in an action involving South Vietnamese ground forces and supporting aircraft and artillery.

One unconfirmed report said a helicopter gunship was involved. South Vietnamese authorities are investigating.

The attack in the demilitarized zone was carried out by unidentified aircraft. A U.S. spokesman said a preliminary investigation showed no U.S. planes in the area at the time.

Only sketchy details were available on the village bombing in the demilitarized zone. It occurred shortly after daybreak Saturday in the southern half of the zone near the coast.

The name of the village is not known. One attack was reported by South Vietnamese army units south of the zone.

No indication of the identity of the aircraft was given. It was possible they were South Vietnamese, or even North Vietnamese, although no planes from the north have ever been reported on bombing missions in the south.

In separate incidents last week, American warplanes attacked a South Vietnamese village and a U. S. Coast Guard patrol boat by mistake.

In the attack on the village last Tuesday by U.S. Air Force planes, 26 villagers were killed. The attack was requested by the Viet Nam province chief after guerrillas fired shots from the village at a spotter plane.

On Thursday, the captain and a crewman of the U.S. Coast Guard patrol boat Point Wellcome were killed and five other persons injured when Air Force jets bombed and strafed the craft by flare light off the coast just south of the demilitarized zone.

McNamara Lists U.S. Plane Losses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Secretary of Defense, Robert S. McNamara, in congressional testimony released over the weekend, estimated that the United States will lose 580 warplanes in Vietnamese operations during the current fiscal year. He put their cost at $1.2 billion. Asked whether the United States was prepared to confront Red China if Peking decided to enter the war, he replied: "I think a short answer is yes." He later said, "If Red China comes in, it is a much different kind of question, and we would have to consider use of different weapons."

Ohio Weekend Traffic Mishaps Fatal to 16

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio's traffic toll the past weekend amounted to at least 16 dead, virtually cut in half from the slaughter of the previous Friday night through Sunday night period.

Four pedestrians were among those killed during the latest 54-hour period surveyed, during which just one accident was reported involving more than one death.

Red Viet Win Said Impossible

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson says weekend talks with Gen. William C. Westmoreland shored up his conviction that American and allied troops "will not be defeated by the Communists in Viet Nam."

A Communist takeover "is no longer just improbable. It is impossible," the President said after he and Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Viet Nam, concluded a review of the status of the war.

Talking with newsmen on the front lawn of the LBJ Ranch, Johnson tempered his statement with these words: "No one can say how many men will be needed or how long we must persevere. The American people must know there will be no quick victory, but the world must know that we will not quit."

Westmoreland, fielding a flurry of questions from reporters, said additional troops will be needed in Viet Nam before the end of the year. He said it was impossible to determine now the extent of the increase.

The general arrived at the ranch Saturday evening but his presence remained secret until he and his wife attended church services Sunday with President and Mrs. Johnson. Westmoreland spent about 18 hours at the ranch before heading back for Viet Nam.

Westmoreland, who described the conference as "officially profitable," left with instructions from Johnson to tell his men that "their determination and their courage in Viet Nam will be matched by adequate resolve and support here at home."

Like Johnson, Westmoreland praised U.S. troops. "They are a credit to America and our society," the four-star general said.

Westmoreland was asked about the constituent assembly elections coming next month in South Viet Nam. He replied that while he is a military man other than a politician, "we do feel the election has right prospects."

Food Price Dip Predicted Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department predicts that rising food prices reached their peak last month and will drop by 1 to 2 per cent by the end of the year.

"Prices received by farmers and wholesale prices of food products on the average are expected to decline during the last half of the year despite prospects for strong demand for certain products," the department said Sunday night.

It explained that lower prices would result from increases in food supplies after this summer and fall harvests. Foods in increased supply, it said, are expected to include meat, milk, potatoes, processed fruits and vegetables.

Lunar Orbiter Ready To Photograph Moon

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A short snort from a little rocket has pushed America's Lunar Orbiter into an orbit around the Moon — a perfect spot, scientists say, from which to take close-up portraits of the pockmarked lunar surface.

The 850-pound spacecraft, carrying cameras and other experiments, attained lunar orbit at 11:34 a.m. Sunday when the 100-pound-thrust rocket fired for 10 minutes.

Scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory said the blast slowed the shiny craft by 1,510 miles an hour, allowing lunar gravity to trap the Orbiter and swing it into orbit.

Spokesmen for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Orbiter swings in an orbit ranging from 119 miles to 1,160 miles above the moon, every 3 hours, 37 minutes and 36 seconds.

of being successful." Westmoreland had been in Hawaii since Wednesday conferring with Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, commander in chief of Pacific forces. Johnson asked Westmoreland to come to Texas for what he said is one of a series of meetings he intends to hold with the general and the U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, Henry Cabot Lodge, in the months ahead.

Rhodes Aide Under Fire

Discrimination Claim 'Upheld'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Columbus civil rights advocate says he has a letter from the U.S. Labor Department supporting his charge that the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation practices racial discrimination.

The bureau administrator, Willard P. Dudley, says the federal department has never informed him if it found any specific instances of bias, and if it had it would be his office's business—not the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's.

David G. McConnell, labor and industry chairman of the Columbus NAACP chapter, leveled the charge over the weekend and demanded Dudley's resignation or firing by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Rhodes' executive assistant, John McElroy, commented: "I can tell you this. The governor is not about to ask for Dudley's resignation."

Nor is Dudley ready to quit on his own.

McConnell, said Dudley, is "a confused individual who has a fixation and for some reason has picked me as his target." "I wouldn't dignify his remarks with a reply," Dudley said.

McConnell made the demand in person during a governor's mansion conference at which some 80 representatives of industry, education, commerce, civic and antipoverty groups were discussing means of finding jobs for youths.

He reiterated it in a Sunday news release.

He charged that Dudley had "blocked efforts by the U.S. Department of Labor, and also by his own staff members, to stop racially discriminatory practices in the Ohio State Employment Service."

The NAACP spokesman said his organization took charges of racial bias in the employment service's Columbus Youth Opportunities Center to U. S. Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz five months ago. He said Wirtz sent an investigating team here and that it wrote him confirming the OSES accepts and fills discriminatory job orders from employers.

Settlement Again Faces Union Vote

Annual Cost Is Estimated At $30 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — A settlement agreement in the 39-day airlines strike was announced today, subject to a vote of approval by 35,400 strikers against five major airlines.

Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds said in announcing the tentative contract agreement that a vote by the striking members of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists would be held "possibly and hopefully tomorrow."

Union President P. L. (Roy) Siemiller said meetings of the strikers around the country would be called as soon as possible to explain the terms of the agreement and take a vote.

Terms of the contract agreement were kept secret pending the vote but informed estimates placed the total three-year cost at some $90 million, or about 8 per cent per year. Top mechanics now make $3.52 per hour, plus fringe benefits that bring a total to around $4 per hour.

Asked how he felt about the settlement, reached after 20 straight hours of Labor Department talks, Siemiller said: "I'm tired. Let's go home."

Reynolds called the agreement a "memorandum of understanding" and emphasized it was not final until approved by the strikers who voted down a

2 Syrian Jets Downed In Battle

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Two Syrian MIGs were shot down today in a jet battle high over the Sea of Galilee and in a low-level attack on two Israeli patrol boats, an army spokesman said. One of the patrol boats was destroyed by the air attack.

A dispatch from Syria reported a three-hour battle between Syrian border positions and the two patrol boats on the eastern shore of the Sea of Galilee, but there was no mention of any plane losses. An army spokesman in Damascus said the Israeli air force tried to intervene but "our air force was on the alert" and prevented this.

The Israeli spokesman said four MIG 19 swept down to attack a stranded patrol boat and another going to her aid on the northeastern shore.

50,000 Red Chinese Coolies Labor To Repair Red Viet Bomb Damage

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The American bombing of North Viet Nam has drawn an estimated 50,000 Red Chinese laborers across the border to keep road and rail supply lines operating, U. S. authorities say.

More are probably available if needed. Whether they are called upon depends on political considerations as well as military necessity.

The historical antagonism between Viet Nam and China is a factor that already must be troubling the Hanoi regime, the sources said. Any influx of Chinese poses a political problem for the North Vietnamese leaders.

Authorities also assume that, in addition to the Chinese laborers in North Viet Nam, more may be working to keep the Ho Chi Minh Trail through Laos in operation.

Unknown thousands of Vietnamese laborers are involved in maintaining the trail. This is particularly true of those segments of the sprawling jungle-covered routes that have been provided surfaces hard enough for trucks.

"We estimate that at any given moment they have between 30,000 to 50,000 Chinese laborers available," one official said.

At one time, almost 20,000 Chinese and North Vietnamese were being used to keep the Mu Gia Pass open. The pass, some 50 miles above the 17th Parallel, is a key point in the supply line into Laos and South Viet Nam, and the North Vietnamese have kept it open despite intensive bombing.

The Communists frequently employ tactics learned in North

Korea where the U. S. Air Force daily pounded the railroads — and never kept them out of action for very long.

The Reds stretch a labor force along the rails with sandbags and crude tools. Restoration work starts within minutes after the bombers leave. If the bombers come back, the process begins again.

Most of the Chinese now employed in North Viet Nam are believed to be strung out along the two major rail lines leading north from Hanoi.

One line runs northwest along the Red River Valley to Kunming, the Chinese terminus of the old Burma route used by the allies in World War II. Alongside runs a highway.

The other line runs almost due north to the Chinese border just above Lang Son, one of the first vital points wrested from the French by the Viet Minh during the French effort to hold Indochina. It is also paralleled by a highway.

Both rail lines undergo daily poundings from the Air Force, but there evidently has been no systematic effort to wreck them completely. The effort, as Korea showed, is not worth the trouble.

The amount of traffic on these lines is also questionable. Most supplies for Hanoi come in through the port of Haiphong.

Strikes against the supply routes have evolved into a sort of game of chance with each side playing percentages.

The United States has never claimed that its Air Force could cut all supplies coming south. It simply says it can raise the cost of moving supplies — in terms of money and military muscle — that the Reds could use elsewhere.

David G. McConnell, labor and industry chairman of the Columbus NAACP chapter, leveled the charge over the weekend and demanded Dudley's resignation or firing by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Rhodes' executive assistant, John McElroy, commented: "I can tell you this. The governor is not about to ask for Dudley's resignation."

Nor is Dudley ready to quit on his own. McConnell, said Dudley, is "a confused individual who has a fixation and for some reason has picked me as his target."

"I wouldn't dignify his remarks with a reply," Dudley said.

McConnell made the demand in person during a governor's mansion conference at which some 80 representatives of industry, education, commerce, civic and antipoverty groups were discussing means of finding jobs for youths.

He reiterated it in a Sunday news release.

He charged that Dudley had "blocked efforts by the U.S. Department of Labor, and also by his own staff members, to stop racial discrimination practices in the Ohio State Employment Service."

The NAACP spokesman said his organization took charges of racial bias in the employment service's Columbus Youth Opportunities Center to U. S. Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz five months ago. He said Wirtz sent an investigating team here and that it wrote him confirming the OSES accepts and fills discriminatory job orders from employers.

Settlement Again Faces Union Vote

Annual Cost Is Estimated At $30 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — A settlement agreement in the 39-day airlines strike was announced today, subject to a vote of approval by 35,400 strikers against five major airlines.

Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds said in announcing the tentative contract agreement that a vote by the striking members of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists would be held "possibly and hopefully tomorrow."

Union President P. L. (Roy) Siemiller said meetings of the strikers around the country would be called as soon as possible to explain the terms of the agreement and take a vote.

Terms of the contract agreement were kept secret pending the vote but informed estimates placed the total three-year cost at some $90 million, or about 8 per cent per year. Top mechanics now make $3.52 per hour, plus fringe benefits that bring a total to about $4 per hour.

Asked how he felt about the settlement, reached after 20 straight hours of Labor Department talks, Siemiller said: "I'm tired. Let's go home."

Reynolds called the agreement a "memorandum of understanding" and emphasized it was not final until approved by the strikers who voted down a (Continued on Page 2)

2 Syrian Jets Downed In Battle

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Two Syrian MIGs were shot down today in a jet battle high over the Sea of Galilee and in a low-level attack on two Israeli patrol boats, an army spokesman said. One of the patrol boats was destroyed by the air attack.

A dispatch from Syria reported a three-hour battle between Syrian border positions and the two patrol boats on the eastern shore of the Sea of Galilee, but there was no mention of any plane losses. An army spokesman in Damascus said the Israeli air force tried to intervene but "our air force was on the alert" and prevented this.

The Israeli spokesman said four MIG 19 swept down to attack a stranded patrol boat and another going to her aid on the northeastern shore.

50,000 Red Chinese Coolies Labor To Repair Red Viet Bomb Damage

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The American bombing of North Viet Nam has drawn an estimated 50,000 Red Chinese laborers across the border to keep road and rail supply lines operating, U. S. authorities say.

More are probably available if needed. Whether they are called upon depends on political considerations as well as military necessity.

The historical antagonism between Viet Nam and China is a factor that already must be troubling the Hanoi regime, the sources said. Any influx of Chinese poses a political problem for the North Vietnamese leaders.

Authorities also assume that, in addition to the Chinese laborers in North Viet Nam, more may be working to keep the Ho Chi Minh Trail through Laos in operation.

Unknown thousands of Vietnamese laborers are involved in maintaining the trail. This is particularly true of those segments of the sprawling jungle-covered routes that have been provided surfaces hard enough for trucks.

"We estimate that at any given moment they have between 30,000 to 50,000 Chinese laborers available," one officer said.

At one time, almost 20,000 Chinese and North Vietnamese were being used to keep the Mu Gia Pass open. The pass, some 50 miles above the 17th Parallel, is a key point in the supply line into Laos and South Viet Nam, and the North Vietnamese have kept it open despite intensive bombing.

The Communists frequently employ tactics learned in North

Korea where the U. S. Air Force daily pounded the railroads — and never kept them out of action for very long.

The Reds stretch a labor force along the rails with sandbags and crude tools. Restoration work starts within minutes after the bombers leave. If the bombers come back, the process begins again.

Most of the Chinese now employed in North Viet Nam are believed to be strung out along the two major rail lines leading north from Hanoi.

One line runs northwest along the Red River Valley to Kunming, the Chinese terminus of the old Burma route used by the allies in World War II. Alongside runs a highway.

The other line runs almost due north to the Chinese border just above Lang Son, one of the first vital points wrested from the French by the Viet Minh during the French effort to hold Indochina. It is also paralleled by a highway.

Both rail lines undergo daily poundings from the Air Force, but there evidently has been no systematic effort to wreck them completely. The effort, as Korea showed, is not worth the trouble.

The amount of traffic on these lines is also questionable. Most supplies for Hanoi come in through the port of Haiphong.

The strikes against the supply routes have evolved into a sort of game of chance with each side playing percentages. The United States has never claimed that its Air Force could cut all supplies coming south. It simply says it can raise the cost of moving supplies — in terms of money and military muscle that the Reds could use elsewhere.

Settlement

previous agreement negotiated in the White House.

While Siemiller declined to predict the outcome of the vote, the settlement in addition to reportedly containing considerably higher wages and benefits than the rejected White House package also contained a cost of living wage escalator clause.

The wage escalator had been one of the union's most vital demands from the beginning of the long dispute and its absence in the earlier agreement was a reason given by strikers in many areas for turning down the White House agreement July 31.

Reynolds said "it is an agreement reached by the parties. It was not in any way forced upon them."

He said the agreement covered all the major issues affecting strikers on the five airlines — United, Eastern, National Northwest and Trans World — plus all local issues on the individual lines.

The agreement also provided for "orderly return to work procedures."

This apparently referred to no reprisal guarantees by the airlines.

The strike so far has cost the airlines an estimated $300 million in revenue losses. The 35,400 strikers and another 30,000 employees who were laid off have shot upwards of $60 million in wages.

Asked whether he viewed the agreement as noninflationary Reynolds declined to comment "in any way at all."

The agreement shattered the White House wage guideline figure of 3.2 per cent which the Johnson administration had emphasized in the past as a weapon against inflation.

Government officials have cited the high productivity of workers and high profits in the airline industry to indicate no hike in fare should be necessary.

Driver Cited After Mishap; Fined, Jailed

A 26-year-old Grove City man was fined $400 and costs, sentenced to 30 days in jail and suffered the loss of his driver's rights Monday in Circleville Municipal Court.

Donald McWhorter was handed the penalties by Judge Sterling M. Lamb on three different traffic violations. The accusations were filed by the Sheriff's Department following an accident Saturday evening near Harrisburg on State Route 62.

McWhorter escaped serious injury in the accident although he was taken to Berger Hospital for treatment of multiple lacerations and an injury to the right hip.

Deputies said the 26-year-old, traveling at a high rate of speed, failed to negotiate a curve and lost control of his vehicle. The auto crashed into a parked car owned by Harry Wrightsel, Route 2, Orient, and came to a halt when it struck a tree.

McWhorter's auto was demolished, according to Deputy Warren Straley. He said the Wrightsel vehicle suffered extensive damage to the left side and top.

McWhorter, appearing in city court, was fined $250 and costs on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicants in addition to a 15-day jail sentence and the suspension of his operator's license for three years.

He was also fined $50 and costs for reckless operation and fined another $100 and sentenced to jail for 15 days for driving without a valid operator's license.

Judge Lamb noted the jail sentences would run consecutively.

Prison Terms Ordered for Probationers

Two men were sentenced to the Mansfield Reformatory Saturday by Common Pleas Judge William Ammer for violation of probation.

Lloyd F. Chilcote, 216 Nicholas Drive, appeared before the court last fall on a charge of issuing a check without sufficient funds and was placed on probation. However, the terms were revoked by the court Saturday and he was sentenced to the reformatory for a period of 1-20 years.

Also appearing was James Sprouse, Shimston, W. Va., on a bill of information for forgery. He pleaded guilty and was placed on probation for three years.

John Davis, Dayton, was arraigned on a non-support accusation. He was indicted by the January term of the grand jury, but failed to make an appearance for his scheduled arraignment.

Airmobile

The ground fighting in the Ia Drang Valley southwest of Plei Me, part of operation Paul Revere II, was the only significant action reported today by the U.S. Command.

It began Sunday afternoon when a company of the U.S. 1st Cavalry (Airmobile) Division engaged a North Vietnamese force of unknown size. The cavalrymen airlifted several companies of reinforcements into the area by helicopter, and the reinforcements were hit immediately by heavy enemy fire, a spokesman reported.

By nightfall, he said, the cavalrymen reported almost surrounding a North Vietnamese force, by then estimated at a battalion totaling perhaps 500 men. The U.S. force threw in tactical air strikes, rocket-firing helicopters and artillery in an attempt to keep the North Vietnamese pinned down through the night.

At daybreak, the cavalrymen launched a ground sweep and for a time this morning, were heavily engaged against the enemy.

Contact was broken at noon, with the North Vietnamese possibly eluding the attempted encirclement.

In Saturday's air strikes over North Viet Nam, U.S. pilots reported damaging or destroying 39 barges, 18 bridges, 33 trucks and five antiaircraft sites. Pilots also claimed numerous hits on oil storage areas and supply dumps but said smoke, dust and darkness prevented an accurate damage assessment.

Over South Viet Nam Sunday, American pilots flew 373 sorties and claimed they damaged or destroyed 321 Viet Cong huts and other structures and 14 sampans. South Vietnamese pilots flew 80 sorties.

American B52 bombers this morning hit a suspected Communist base camp and headquarters 35 miles west of the coastal city of Quang Ngai.

St. Paul AME Milestone Is Reached

St. Paul AME Church, 424 S. Pickaway St., reached a milestone Sunday in a remodeling program.

Mrs. Vivian Lewis, treasurer, reported that a cancelled mortgage was presented to the pastor, the Rev. Mary Lou Henderson. The $1,400 debt was incurred to replace the roof of the church.

Mrs. Lewis noted that Kenneth Smith, a layman of the church, had given her the cancelled mortgage to present to the congregation.

The church is planning a homecoming Sept. 18 for the purpose of "inspiring a renewal" of interest in the church's activities and to raise funds to carry on the church's temporal affairs.

Mrs. Lewis noted that the public is invited to attend prayer meetings every Wednesday from 7-9 p. m.

Commission, Advisory Group To Discuss Airport Program

Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners prepared today to continue a program designed to bring an airport to this community.

The county governing body was scheduled to meet during the afternoon with members of a local airport advisory group. Spokesmen said emphasis will be placed on details relative to sites and financing.

Serving on the airport advisory panel are Alden D. Bray, John Dunlap Jr. and D. E. Goodchild — all members of a larger Pickaway Community Action Committee appointed earlier by the commission.

The local advisory group worked closely with a similar panel from Ross County in an effort to establish a joint Pickaway - Ross airport. However, the program was abandoned earlier this month.

TERMINATION of the combined venture was prompted the commissioners to seek an airport for Pickaway alone. Ross is now following the same approach.

In business conducted earlier today, the solons released a $10,000 performance bond posted by Fairfield Homes, Inc., in regard to construction of a section of Meadow Drive in the Gorsuch Meadow View addition.

The Meadow Drive Road was accepted by the commission and released to the Circleville Twp. Board of Trustees for future maintenance. Homes in the addition are within the city corporation limits, while the road itself is in Circleville Twp.

Harley Evans and Delbert Remy, Perry Twp. Trustees, appeared before the commission to request a truck load limit be reimposed on certain roads in their township. Highway involved are Mouser, road, Williamsport - Crownover, Mill Road and Locust. Grove-Dublin Hill Road.

The trustees said heavily loaded trucks being used in construction work at the Deer-creek Reservoir are creating road maintenance problems.

The commissioners had imposed load restrictions on the roads in February of this year due to the effect of frost and moisture. However, the limitations terminated in April.

LLOYD MELVIN, commission chairman, said he is not sure if the county can legally reduce load limits after the frost and moisture danger is past. The matter is to be considered further.

Moving to other items on the agenda, Melvin said letters will be sent to local firms seeking quotation bids for supplying stoker coal for use at the Court-house and County Jail for the 1966-67 period.

Driver Cited After Mishap; Fined, Jailed

A 26-year-old Grove City man was fined $400 and costs, sentenced to 30 days in jail and suffered the loss of his driver's rights Monday in Circleville Municipal Court.

Donald McWhorter was handed the penalties by Judge Sterling M. Lamb on three different traffic violations. The accusations were filed by the Sheriff's Department following an accident Saturday evening near Harrisburg on State Route 62.

McWhorter escaped serious injury in the accident although he was taken to Berger Hospital for treatment of multiple lacerations and an injury to the right hip.

Deputies said the 26-year-old, travelling at a high rate of speed, failed to negotiate a curve and lost control of his vehicle. The auto crashed into a parked car owned by Harry Wright, Route 2, Orient, and came to a halt when it struck a tree.

McWhorter's auto was demolished, according to Deputy Warren Straley. He said the Wright vehicle suffered extensive damage to the left side and top.

McWhorter, appearing in city court, was fined $250 and costs on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicants in addition to a 15-day jail sentence and the suspension of his operator's license for three years.

He was also fined $50 and costs for reckless operation and fined another $100 and sentenced to jail for 15 days for driving without a valid operator's license.

Judge Lamb noted the jail sentences would run consecutively.

Prison Terms Ordered for Probationers

Two men were sentenced to the Mansfield Reformatory Saturday by Common Pleas Judge William Ammer for violation of probation.

Lloyd F. Chilcote, 216 Nicholas Drive, appeared before the court last fall on a charge of issuing a check without sufficient funds and was placed on probation. However, the terms were revoked by the court Saturday and he was sentenced to the reformatory for a period of 1-20 years.

David Everett Price, Columbus, was handed sentences of 1-15 years and 1-7 years at the Mansfield penal institution for breaking and entering and grand larceny. His sentences are to run concurrently.

Also appearing was James Sprouse, Shiniston, W. Va., on a bill of information for forgery. He pleaded guilty and was placed on probation for three years.

John Davis, Dayton, was arraigned on a non-support accusation. He was indicted by the January term of the grand jury, but failed to make an appearance for his scheduled arraignment.

Davis was arrested in Illinois recently and returned here. He entered a plea of innocent Saturday and bond was set at $2,500 by Judge Ammer.

The ground fighting in the Ia Drang Valley southwest of Plei Me, part of operation Paul Revere II, was the only significant action reported today by the U.S. Command.

It began Sunday afternoon when a company of the U.S. 1st Cavalry (Airmobile) Division engaged a North Vietnamese force of unknown size. The cavalrymen airlifted several companies of reinforcements into the area by helicopter, and the reinforcements were hit immediately by heavy enemy fire, a spokesman reported.

By nightfall, he said, the cavalrymen reported almost surrounding a North Vietnamese force, by then estimated at a battalion totaling perhaps 500 men. The U.S. force threw in tactical air strikes, rocket-firing helicopters and artillery in an attempt to keep the North Vietnamese pinned down through the night.

At daybreak, the cavalrymen launched a ground sweep and for a time this morning, were heavily engaged against the enemy.

Contact was broken at noon, with the North Vietnamese possibly eluding the attempted encirclement.

In Saturday's air strikes over North Viet Nam, U.S. pilots reported damaging or destroying 39 barges, 18 bridges, 33 trucks and five antiaircraft sites. Pilots also claimed numerous hits on oil storage areas and supply dumps but said smoke, dust and darkness prevented an accurate damage assessment.

Over South Viet Nam Sunday, American pilots flew 373 sorties and claimed they damaged or destroyed 321 Viet Cong huts and other structures and 14 sampans. South Vietnamese pilots flew 80 sorties.

American B52 bombers this morning hit a suspected Communist base camp and headquarters 35 miles west of the coastal city of Quang Ngai.

Commission, Advisory Group To Discuss Airport Program

Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners prepared today to continue a program designed to bring an airport to this community.

The county governing body was scheduled to meet during the afternoon with members of a local airport advisory group. Spokesmen said emphasis will be placed on details relative to sites and financing.

Serving on the airport advisory panel are Alden D. Bray, John Dunlap Jr. and D. E. Goodchild — all members of a larger Pickaway Community Action Committee appointed earlier by the commission.

The local advisory group worked closely with a similar panel from Ross County in an effort to establish a joint Pickaway - Ross airport. However, the program was abandoned earlier this month.

TERMINATION of the combined venture was prompted the commissioners to seek an airport for Pickaway alone. Ross is now following the same approach.

In business conducted earlier today, the solons released a $10,000 performance bond posted by Fairfield Homes, Inc., in regard to construction of a section of Meadow Drive in the Gorsuch Meadow View Addition.

The Meadow Drive Road was accepted by the commission and released to the Circleville Twp. Board of Trustees for future maintenance. Homes in the addition are within the city corporation limits, while the road itself is in Circleville Twp.

Harley Evans and Delbert Remy, Perry Twp. Trustees, appeared before the commission to request a truck load limit be reimposed on certain roads in their township. Highways involved are Mouser road, Williamsport - Crownover Mill Road and Locust Grove-Dublin Hill Road.

The trustees said heavily loaded trucks being used in construction work at the Deer-creek Reservoir are creating road maintenance problems.

The commissioners had imposed load restrictions on the roads in February of this year due to the effect of frost and moisture. However, the limitations terminated in April.

LLOYD MELVIN, commission chairman, said he is not sure if the county can legally reduce load limits after the frost and moisture danger is past. The matter is to be considered further.

Moving to other items on the agenda, Melvin said letters will be sent to local firms seeking quotation bids for supplying stoker coal for use at the Court-house and County Jail for the 1966-67 period.

Pamela April Reedy, Grove City, forfeited a $24.75 bond to Circleville Municipal Court following an accusation of fishing without a license.

The charge was filed by Russell K. Tippet, game protector.

Foot, Mouth Disease Hits Europe's Herds

LONDON (AP)—Britain and other European countries are waging a war costing millions against the mysterious plague of foot-and-mouth disease striking cattle and sheep.

The oldest herd of pedigree Ayrshires in England—that of Eshott, founded 700 years ago—is threatened. Mass slaughtering has resulted, but some countries are trying other approaches to check the spread of the disease.

Here is a nation-by-nation roundup:
Soviet Union—First reported in 1965, the disease spread to most parts of European Russia. By unofficial estimates as many as a third of 87 million Soviet cattle were affected by last spring. There have been no official figures on losses.

West Germany—No figures on nationwide losses are available but estimates run into millions of dollars. In Bavaria, one of the states hardest hit, the epidemic broke out in December 1965 and since then 12,000 cattle and 9,000 pigs have been slaughtered. In March this year a blanket inoculation program was started.

German control technique is to slaughter whenever disease is detected. A "cordon sanitaire" is set up around the area, all cattle in it are inoculated and barred from shipment outside the area.

No transport of cattle into or through the area is permitted. Agricultural officials say the current virus appears more active than in the past and is particularly difficult to control.

Denmark—An outbreak this spring hit 1,000 cattle and 2,000 pigs, all were slaughtered.

Italy—The disease is taken as practically a way of life by Italians. Slaughtering is virtually unheard of. Inoculation is the most widely used counterattack but little is done to quarantine stock or prevent movement. Agricultural experts say millions of dollars are lost annually.

Belgium—Strict inspection of imports of cattle is enforced. Outbreaks have been checked but about 320 cases were reported from September 1965 until April 1966.

Hungary—Officially declared free of the disease now, following an outbreak in August 1964, to midsummer 1965.

Spain—No outbreak since the end of 1965, when an estimated 800,000 animals were affected and economic losses ran into millions.

France—Officials say the country is free of foot-and-mouth disease. Any animal even suspected of being infected is promptly killed.

Church Council Scheduled Here

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Red Chinese wrote a fairy tale over the weekend.

No group in history ever faced a more gruesome, gigantic or frustrating task than the Chinese Reds when they took over their country in 1949 and had to rush it and 700 million people out of antiquity in a hurry.

They have made tremendous progress, led by men like Mao Tse-tung, who for years were fanatic in their zeal to do what they finally had a chance to do.

Now they are old but still fanatic, for this was the only way of life they knew and it is too late for change. This has been the history of others, like Stalin.

Others in China realized rigidity is the condition of a corpse and change a condition of life: that in time through the evolutionary process political parties change to adjust like bananas, crocodiles and people.

They have seen Communist parties around the world change—as in Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union—surrendering dogma to necessities and ideology to reality, but the critics of Mao's regime were purged.

Early this month the Chinese Communist party's Central Committee met for 12 days and then issued a communique which sounded in part like something from another world.

The fairy tale was in the euphoria about economic, agricultural and industrial successes. Doubt Red China was moving forward. But you would never guess it had any setbacks, made any mistakes. It had to have had them, with its vast problems. It simply did not admit them.

There was one thing you would guess: it is being careful about trying a second "great leap forward." It tried a "great leap" in 1958—under Mao's prodding, a radical collectivization of farm and factory—that turned into a great disaster.

This weekend's communique did not promise a great leap. It may have hinted at one.

The bitter break with the Soviet Union looks deeper than ever. The communists not only accused the Soviets of betraying communism and safeguarding capitalism but even of trying to restore capitalism.

Yet, there was a pathetic sense of loneliness and reaction about the communique for more reasons than one:

1. Red China set itself up as the leader of the world Communist movement, knowing as it did so, that one by one other countries, Communist or non-Communist, are beginning to look on her dubiously or breaking away.

2. The whole communique, while its purpose may be to assure internal discipline, is a groveling, cringing, deification of a man, Mao, which makes an obscenity of all other intellectuals in China because, compared with his, all others look like trash.

In effect the Chinese people are being taken down the most reactionary of all roads. Instead of being urged to seek new values, insights and understandings they are being told the answers are all in and that in all history only three men have had them: Mao, Marx, and Lenin.

There was one thing you would guess: it is being careful about trying a second "great leap forward." It tried a "great leap" in 1958—under Mao's prodding, a radical collectivization of farm and factory—that turned into a great disaster. This weekend's communique

Local Youth Attends Church Conference

Miss Melinda Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray R. Anderson, 151 Logan St., spent the weekend at Lebanon, O., and attended the Southern Ohio District Cabinet meeting of the Church of the Brethren.

Miss Anderson has served on the cabinet for the past year and has been re-elected for another year. She and Miss Sharon Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Carter, 111 Highland Ave., along with 300 youths and councilors from the Southern Ohio District, will attend the Church of the Brethren Youth Conference being held Aug. 16-26 at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. did not promise a great leap. It may have hinted at one.

The bitter break with the Soviet Union looks deeper than ever. The communists not only accused the Soviets of betraying communism and safeguarding capitalism but even of trying to restore capitalism.

Yet, there was a pathetic sense of loneliness and reaction about the communists for more reasons than one:

1. Red China set itself up as the leader of the world Communist movement, knowing as it did so, that one by one other countries, Communist or non-Communist, are beginning to look on her dubiously or breaking away.

2. The whole communique, while its purpose may be to assure internal discipline, is a groveling, cringing, deification of a man, Mao, which makes an obscenity of all other intellectuals in China because, compared with his, all others look like trash.

In effect the Chinese people are being taken down the most reactionary of all roads. Instead of being urged to seek new val-

Rattlesnakes Fail To Warn

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a rattlesnake might never know if he didn't open his mail: In a doubtful world most people believe the rattlesnake is at least one creep that gives fair warning. In a recent experiment only four per cent of a group of these snakes shook their rattles before striking. Soon it may be difficult for people to find parking space for themselves—let alone their cars. In the next 20 years the U.S. population is expected to add as many persons as now dwell in all the states west of the Mississippi River.

The cheetah long has been thought the fastest animal on earth, and may be. But it has been scientifically clocked at only 56 miles an hour, whereas the American pronghorn antelope has exceeded 61.

If civilization really is "a race between education and catastrophe," we may be buying our way to safety. America spent $39 billion on education in 1965, which is 200 per cent above the figure for 25 years ago.

Researchers say it takes about three years of steady smoking to become hooked by the habit. They've found that about 10 per cent of new smokers start in the sixth grade. And, despite all medical warnings of possible health hazards, only 15 per cent of regular smokers have quit.

Who is the poorest-fed member of the average U.S. family? Studies indicate it is the teenage girl. Her diet isn't as well-balanced as that of a farm animal being raised for market.

The United States was the world's first nation to require a periodic census of its people. Our first census, voted in March, 1790, cost $44,377. The bill for the 1960 census came to $106,430,000.

Poll takers have found that the "average" U.S. woman speaks 4,800 words a day and is on the phone one year in her lifetime. And might talk even more if she didn't spend up to five hours a day watching television.

It may help you to take the whistle out of your new set of false teeth if you will repeat the following sentence over and over: "Sarah in a shawl, shovelled soft snow softly."

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Business is halfway through the 1966 third quarter today with much of its earlier hesitation overcome and expectations growing for a record fourth quarter.

Even some of the Wall Street bears are wondering if the stock market's low point hasn't been reached or at least sighted.

With the 66th month of the business upswing rounding out, the economy shows many signs of starting a new climb. Wage-price spirals and Viet Nam War costs are capturing the attention now that a few months ago was dominated by fears that business was overexpanding and consumer demands nearing saturation.

Housing is still a drag. This may continue for a time, as money stays tight.

But the auto industry, the other much publicized laggard, is confident that better days are all but here. Detroit reports that production schedules call for the industry to turn out more cars next month than in any previous September.

At the halfway mark, the third quarter already is shaping up as one of the best. The summer slump has been milder than many feared.

Consumer spending is rising faster than in the late spring. Part of the total is due to higher prices. But much of it is due to increased employment and higher wage scales.

The gain in summer jobs has been especially marked this year. And the Armed Forces have been taking more young men, cutting the drag which a high jobless rate would have had on the economy.

Business spending for new plant and equipment continues to increase with still more in prospect.

Inventory building still holds fairly closely in line with sales, postponing at least the day of reckoning which many past business booms have faced.

Government spending has made the most consistent advance of all this quarter and defense outlays are likely to expand further. State and local spending has gone up, despite the check of high interest charges on some new project planning.

Business concern as Labor Day approaches is focusing more and more on Washington. What Congress will or won't do in the final rush to adjourn as election campaigns warm up captures a top place in the list of uncertainties.

Wage demands, rising prices, skilled labor shortages due both to the business boom and the growing defense needs — all these complicate the business outlook at the upswing's 5 1/2-year mark.

But they are more likely than not to give the boom new impetus — in dollar terms at least. Business volume seems headed firmly for a new high.

EDITOR'S NOTE — Four years ago, Jim Nabors was a friendly film cutter with a good singing voice, who performed for peanuts in a Santa Monica night club. How has he handled sudden success? Here he discusses the problem frankly.

By JIM NABORS
(For Cynthia Lowry)

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — An inevitable question asked of a performer who has made a modest success of his career is, "How has success changed you?"

It's a loaded question because it automatically assumes that there has been a change. And, in a sense, the assumption is a correct one.

Basically, however, most people remain pretty much the same. The only ones who really change are those who didn't have anything basic in their lives to begin with.

It is often pointed out to me that in a brief time I have gone from unknown film editor to star of "Gomer Pyle", guest star in two TV specials, and a night club headliner — and that this must necessarily have wrought some deep changes in me.

Put it this way: it's like getting a promotion. You're one of the office help, and then one day you become office manager. Your position changes, your responsibilities change — but you, basically, remain the same person.

Other things change, to be sure. Your interests change because now you are doing different things and your life has taken a different turn. Quite naturally, you tend to spend a good deal of time with people involved in your own interests.

This often brings the charge that the successful man has deserted all his old friends. I find this rather nonsensical. No man has more than a handful of close friends. He may find some of them early in life, some later. Circumstances, such as high school, college, a job, naturally bring him into close contact with a great number of people who, at the time, are pursuing the same interests.

But once the circumstances of the time come to an end, everybody moves on. People I knew in high school have gone in many directions, as I have gone in my particular direction. They now have different and absorbing interests of their own, just as I have mine.

The big difference in my life, actually, is simply a lack of time to do all the things I would like to do. There is no time any more. Your time becomes the property of other people — writers, producers, directors, sponsors, managers, agents, press agent, secretaries, the president.

And if just once in six months you happen to mention this to somebody: that there is no time and that you are tired and that wouldn't it be nice if you could have one whole weekend just to yourself, the word goes out — Jim Nabors was a nice fellow once, but success has changed him.

No, it really hasn't. Jim Nabors is still pretty much the same basic fellow he always was. But, as catcher John Roseboro of the Los Angeles Dodgers recently put it, he is some kind of tired!

So What Else Is New?

By John Chamberlain

Here's a real weirdie: Richard Cornuelle, an idealistic young man who thinks the churches, the private foundations, the labor unions, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Boy and Girl Scouts and all the other voluntary organizations in the country should be doing something to solve our problems of poverty and discrimination, happens to be vacationing at Lake Tahoe in California. Dick is the author of a book, "Reclaiming the American Dream," which outlines his ideas about the duty of the so-called "independent sector" to provide educational programs which will get drop-outs back into school and train "functional illiterates" to perform needed tasks industry. Recently he persuaded a rejuvenated and reformed National Association of Manufacturers to give him a job promoting voluntary welfareism. Listening to Cornuelle's ideas, the NAM started a project of picking Negro drop-outs off the streets of Harlem and giving them courses in reading, writing, mathematics and typing that will enable them to make profitable connections with private payrolls.

Dick is a Californian recently transplanted to New York, and he has gone to Lake Tahoe to be with his family for a short period before they all move east in time for the Cornuelle children to enter New York schools. It so happens that Ronald Reagan, the Republican nominee for Governor of California, and Robert Finch, the Nixon man who is the nominee for Lieutenant Governor, are campaigning in the Tahoe region. Dick Cornuelle, who went to school with Finch and has known him for twenty years, invites the two candidates to visit with him for a talk on applying the "independent sector" approach to solving the problems of the Watts area of Los Angeles. The three meet on a porch in full view of anybody who happens to be going by. Nothing is discussed other than Cornuelle's pet subject, which appeals to both Reagan and Finch, who are looking for ideas to alleviate social ills without adding to the tax burdens of the ordinary citizen.

So what happens? A California labor leader, Thomas L. Pitts, hears about the meeting of Cornuelle, Reagan, and Finch and, for all the world like any rabid Right Winger putting out the old hokum about the Elders of Zion plotting to sell the world into bondage, immediately transforms the whole business into a "secret huddle" in which members of the NAM promise unlimited funds to Reagan to promote "an extremist takeover in California this year and an extremist drive for the Presidency two years hence."

The whole business, of course, is a nice bit of character assassination, for Dick Cornuelle has no power to promise anything for the NAM, which is actually forbidden by law to drum up support for any political candidate in any party. Cornuelle, who is being inferentially charged with conniving at an illegal act, could sue for defamation of character.

The most ridiculous thing about the whole business is that Dick Cornuelle has talked with politicians from all parties about the need for involving the "independent sector" in the war against poverty. That is his one and only crusade. George Romney, the Governor of Michigan, recently invited Cornuelle to Lansing to give him a fill-in on ideas for putting voluntary organizations to work on anti-poverty measures in Michigan. Eugene Nickerson, one of the Democratic candidates for Governor of New York, has written enthusiastically of Cornuelle's ideas. And Cornuelle has had sympathetic talks about the uses of the independent sector" with Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., another aspirant to the New York Governor's office.

So impressed was Roosevelt with Cornuelle's theories that he praised them in a speech to the Greater New York Council of the Boy Scouts of America, "The independent sector," so Roosevelt told the Scouts, "cuts across labels like Republican or Democratic, Liberal or Conservative... When the independent sector proves that it can meet and is meeting a specific social need, there is no vacuum and the Government does not need to step in."

This happens to be the same thing Cornuelle was telling Ronald Reagan and Robert Finch. If this constitutes "extremism," then George Romney, Eugene Nickerson, and Franklin Roosevelt Jr. are all extremists," and Ronald Reagan might as well join their illustrious ranks. Furthermore, if Governor Pat Brown and his labor leader supporters had not lost their political senses, they would be listening to Cornuelle too.

The pastor assured her, "Never underestimate the power of prayer. Before ringing a doorbell, stop for a few moments to speak to God about it."

At the next meeting, the lady told her pastor happily, "What you said about prayer works like a charm. Thank you! I tried it successfully on my very first call. I prayed the people wouldn't be home—and they weren't."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Should vitamins be taken throughout the summer and the fall as well as in the winter?

During the summertime and early fall when the sun is still concentrated there is less need for vitamins than in the winter. The ultraviolet light acts on substances in the skin and manufactures large quantities of Vitamin D, so necessary for the growth and for the bone structure of children.

Infants and small children should be maintained on vitamin supplements according to their doctor's direction. In most instances a well-balanced diet supplies all the necessary minerals and vitamins to satisfy the body's daily requirements.

The elderly, too, should remain on small supplementary vitamins, especially if they are infirm and if their diets are inadequate.

Mid-September or October in northern climates is a good time to begin taking these additions to diets.

Expensive "special" vitamins and food nutrients serve no purpose other than to cause a "vitamin deficiency" of the pocketbook.

If the doctor ever suspects that there is a definite vitamin deficiency there are ways to determine which specific vitamin is lacking. It can then be prescribed and used until the need is no longer there.

Is the soft spot on the top of the head of a newborn baby particularly susceptible to injury?

There are two "soft spots" on the top of the head of infants. These are called fontanels and stay until the process of bone growth is completed.

This soft area is covered by a thick, rather tough, membrane which serves as an excellent protection against injury. Parents need have no special concern about injuring their infants during the course of normal, gentle handling. Infants are remarkably sturdy.

When a person faints does it mean he is in shock?

The word shock is used to describe a condition caused by a psychological disturbance as well as one caused by injury. A severe emotional shock caused by some unpleasant disturbance can produce symptoms that are sometimes difficult to distinguish from physical shock.

Blood suddenly drained from the brain accumulates in the rest of the body and causes a temporary faintness because there is insufficient oxygen going to the brain. If the person's head is lowered or kept flat this temporary state of shock will quickly disappear.

Shock due to injury, loss of blood, poisoning, heat exhaustion, stroke or heart attack is, of course, far more serious. In these instances, too, the early state of shock is due to inadequate blood supply to the brain.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — Business is halfway through the 1966 third quarter today with much of its earlier hesitation overcome and expectations growing for a record fourth quarter.

Even some of the Wall Street bears are wondering if the stock market's low point hasn't been reached or at least sighted.

With the 66th month of the business upswing rounding out, the economy shows many signs of starting a new climb. Wage-price spirals and Viet Nam War costs are capturing the attention now that a few months ago was dominated by fears that business was overexpanding and consumer demands nearing saturation.

Housing is still a drag. This may continue for a time, as money stays tight.

But the auto industry, the other much publicized laggard, is confident that better days are all but here. Detroit reports that production schedules call for the industry to turn out more cars next month than in any previous September.

At the halfway mark, the third quarter already is shaping up as one of the best. The summer slump has been milder than many feared.

Consumer spending is rising faster than in the late spring. Part of the total is due to higher prices. But much of it is due to increased employment and higher wage scales.

The gain in summer jobs has been especially marked this year. And the Armed Forces have been taking more young men, cutting the drag which a high jobless rate would have had on the economy.

Business spending for new plant and equipment continues to increase with still more in prospect.

Inventory building still holds fairly closely in line with sales, postponing at least the day of reckoning which many past business booms have faced.

Government spending has made the most consistent advance of all this quarter and defense outlays are likely to expand further. State and local spending has gone up, despite the check of high interest charges on some new project planning.

Business concern as Labor Day approaches is focusing more and more on Washington. What Congress will or won't do in the final rush to adjourn as election campaigns warm up captures a top place in the list of uncertainties.

Wage demands, rising prices, skilled labor shortages due both to the business boom and the growing defense needs — all these complicate the business outlook at the upswing's 5½-year mark.

But they are more likely than not to give the boom new impetus — in dollar terms at least. Business volume seems headed firmly for a new high.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — An inevitable question asked of a performer who has made a modest success of his career is, "How has success changed you?"

It's a loaded question because it automatically assumes that there has been a change. And, in a sense, the assumption is a correct one.

Basically, however, most people remain pretty much the same. The only ones who really change are those who didn't have anything basic in their lives to begin with.

It is often pointed out to me that in a brief time I have gone from unknown film editor to star of "Gomer Pyle," guest star in two TV specials, and a night club headliner — and that this must necessarily have wrought some deep changes in me.

Ohio Harvest Expected To Set Record

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Crop Reporting Service said Saturday that crop production prospects in Ohio as of Aug. 1, indicate "a record total exceeding the record production of 1960 by about 2 per cent."

The report said that compared with 1965, the prospective total is up about 6 per cent. Record yields per acre for corn and wheat along with a record acreage of soybeans for beans are main contributors to the indicated record total crop production.

The service said total production of corn for grain is estimated at 236 million bushels, greatest on record starting with 1919. Prospective production is three million bushels larger than the July 1 forecast, up 7 per cent from last year and 14 per cent larger than average.

Production of soybeans for beans is expected to total 55.8 million bushels, a new record high for Ohio and exceeding the record 1965 crop by 9 per cent.

Wheat production, estimated at 45.5 million bushels, is unchanged from the July 1 estimate. Yield per acre is a record high of 40 bushels per acre, two bushels above the previous record established in 1963. An oats crop of 36.5 million bushels is estimated, 4 per cent larger than last year but nearly a fourth below the five-year average.

Fruit crop prospects are below last year because of the May freeze. Production total of all fruit is expected to be about two-thirds of last year.

Box Seats Collapse at Mercer Fair

CELINA, Ohio (AP) — Four persons, including three members of one family, remained hospitalized today with injuries suffered Sunday night in a grandstand collapse at the Mercer County Fairgrounds.

Sixteen other persons were treated at hospitals after the accident and released. No broken bones were reported, but those hospitalized were due for more X-rays today.

At Gibbons Hospital, listed in fair condition, were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bollembacher of nearby Rockford. Their son, Paul, 35, of Geneva, Ind., and Miss Joan Linton, 24, of Celina were in good condition at Otis Hospital.

A box seat section came crashing down some 10-15 feet, giving way under the weight of about 50 people among the capacity crowd watching an auto thrill show.

People, portable chairs and miscellaneous possessions fell toward the track, and a platform in turn fell onto the box seat section.

Those in the front row of the 40-foot-wide section, under which wooden supports apparently gave way, fell out toward the track and landed on grassy ground.

The earth's atmosphere up to 600 miles has been closely studied by satellites and instrumented rockets.

Whiplash —

A young woman writes: "Nineteen months ago, I suffered a whiplash type injury and since have been in almost constant misery. I have severe neck and chest pains and suffer with violent sick headaches and sometimes a wave of nausea sweeps over my stomach. If I turn my head to quickly or put a little pressure on my head or neck, I feel some discomfort. Doctor, can chiropractic help an injury resulting from a whiplash type of blow?"

These are some of the more common symptoms resulting from a whiplash type blow and Doctors of Chiropractic are not unaware of these cases in their offices. Symptoms are usually localized to the spine and nervous system and surrounding tissues of which the chiropractor specializes.

The following is just such a case from our files: A forty-six year old female rushed into a chiropractor's office crying and holding her head exclaiming, "The top of my head is coming off — please do something!"

Emergency treatment was rendered and within a few minutes her head eased for the first time in two weeks.

U.S. Fliers Say Red Flak Worse Than in War II

ABOARD Carrier Oriskany, Gulf of Tonkin (AP)—North Viet Nam is throwing up a flak barrage along its coastline heavier than any anti-aircraft barrier during World War II or the Korean War, experienced pilots on this attack carrier believe.

They say the barrage has been intensified in recent weeks and add that it is beginning to prove "very effective."

The United States has reported the loss of 329 planes over North Viet Nam and a record of seven in one day was shot down last Sunday.

"North Viet Nam has virtually erected a flak curtain right along its coastline," said one of the Oriskany's pilots, Lt. John McDonald of Hendersonville, N.C. "Nowadays there are not many points that are not heavily defended. Everywhere you go you see those great big black soot balls of flak."

McDonald and the other pilots fly 1,000-mile-an-hour F8 Crusader jets over North Viet Nam from the 40,000-ton Oriskany. They concentrate mostly on targets in the Haiphong area. They say there is usually no way to get past the flak barrage other than to "gun up" and go right through it.

"The flak starts these days before you hit the beach," Lt. (j.g.) Richard A. Bengtson of Salina, Kan., said.

"Their radar has us spotted from the time we leave the ship.

"We try to fly over the flak as much as we can, but usually this is not possible. You also run the risk of meeting missiles if you get up too high."

Bengtson said the missiles, however, are fairly easy to get away from.

"As soon as we see them we start taking evasive action," he added. "You often can see them zooming off from their launching pads, leaving a trail of smoke behind them."

Most of the Oriskany's pilots agree that flak is a greater threat than the missiles.

Other pilots, who saw flak barrages in World War II and the Korean War, said the flak over North Viet Nam now is worse than anything in those wars. These senior pilots—they declined to be named—described it as "probably the most intensive anti-aircraft fire ever thrown up."

McDonald believes the manually operated North Vietnamese guns are more effective than those controlled by radar.

"They seem to be having some trouble with their radar guns," he added. "It's those little Commie guys with their handcranked guns that are the danger. They are getting really accurate, —very effective. They are getting plenty of practice. We keep them busy 24 hours a day."

Bengtson said a pilot often does not realize he is being hit by flak as he goes through it—unless it is a "killing" shot.

"All you worry about is getting through it as fast as you can. You find all the holes when you get back to the ships."

McDonald said North Vietnamese gunners often will spring a trap for the U.S. pilots.

"They'll have 200 guns on the ground at a certain place," he said. "They'll let you go back and forth over this spot several times without firing a single shot at you."

"Then one day when they think they have a juicy target. They'll open up and all hell will break loose."

Grange Completes Payment For Fairgrounds Building

Activity during the 1966 County Fair has made it possible to complete payment for the 4-H and Grange Center at the Fairgrounds, according to John F. Dowler, chairman of the Pomona Grange Building Fund.

The announcement was made when Pomona Grange No. 26 conducted its summer session at the Fairgrounds. Initial plans were made for a "mortgage burning" dinner in which all granges will participate.

Representatives of subordinate groups gave reports on policies and procedures exercised since the spring meeting. They were introduced by Dorsey

Bumgarner, worthy master.

Carol DeLong of Saltcreek Grange was officially received as a member of the Pomona. She received her fifth degree at the State Grange. In other business a donation was sent to the Boy's Village at Smithville.

LEGISLATIVE agent Carl Bennett presented a program of issues in the State Legislature. He was asked by the Grange to prepare official resolutions against Sunday hunting and Sunday liquor sales and for uniform traffic laws and uniform time.

Harold Furniss, youth chairman, reminded members that Greg Fraumfelter and Beverly McKenzie were named Grange Prince and Princess at the July county grange picnic at Tar Hollow State Park. They will compete in a state contest representing the Pomona Grange. He also announced that the youth grange would present their winning play "Pardon My Second Scene" at the Ohio State Fair on Aug. 26.

Officers elected for the 1966-68 activities were Dorsey Bumgarner, master; Hoyt Timmons, overseer; Leora Sayre, lecturer; Harold Fisher, steward; Harold Furniss, assistant steward; Mrs. Homer Reber, chaplain; Mrs. Dorsey Bumgarner, secretary; Wayne Luckhart, treasurer; Russell Waidlich, gatekeeper; Beverly McKenzie, Pomona; Mrs. Franceil Cromley, Ceres; Mrs. Paul Dawson, Flora; Barbara McKenzie, lady assistant steward.

For the executive committee Ralph Fisher was elected for a two-year term and S.E. Beers for three years. Harold Bumgarner, the other member of this committee, has another year to serve.

Mrs. Richard Tootle was judge for the home economics contest arranged by Mrs. John Dowler, Pomona home economics chairman.

In the baking category Mrs. Clinton Ritchie of Star Grange placed first. Mrs. Kenneth Reigle of the Nebraska Grange was second and Paul Dunkle of Saltcreek Grange was third. In the sewing category Mrs. Judson Beougher of Saltcreek Grange placed first. Mrs. Evah Beach of the Scioto Grange was second and Mrs. Chester Necker of Nebraska Grange was third.

THE PROGRAM, arranged by worthy lecturer Leora Sayre was "Every second counts in going forward with grange." A variety of assigned and volunteer numbers were included which recognized some phase of going forward with grange. An original monologue showing techniques for going forward in driving an automobile was given by Linda Trimmer, Miss South Central Ohio. Mrs. Herbert Hammel was piano accompanist for all musical numbers. Special recognition was given

Mrs. Galen Mowery, who reigned as "Queen for a Day" during the Pickaway County Fair and Mrs. Francis Furniss whose ability for going ahead with gardening made recent news headlines.

During the concluding social hour, lunch was served by the Saltcreek Grange. Mrs. Wayne Luckhart, home economics chairman, presided.

She had these symptoms, along with neck, shoulder, and arm pains, but nothing seemed to help. And lately, her arm grew numb, and tingled. After an examination and case history, it was revealed, several years ago, she had an auto accident and suffered a whiplash type blow to her cervical spine.

X-rays were immediately taken and several displaced vertebrae in her neck and between her shoulders were found. These misaligned vertebrae compressed spinal nerve trunks, causing her miserable pains. After complete correction of the cause, her symptoms vanished.

This woman suffered unnecessary pain for years because she neglected a chiropractic examination at the time of her accident. This could have been prevented and she would have lived a much happier, healthier life.

The chiropractic profession urges a spinal examination by your chiropractor after any auto accident. Insurance companies honor chiropractic claims.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren
Tell Him Facts about Will

DEAR ABBY: Three years ago I married a wonderful widower. He is considerate, kind, and generous, and we are very happy together. One thing has me worried. He has no intentions of drawing up a will. He feels that inasmuch as wife number one helped him earn everything he now possesses, should he precede me in death, everything should go to his children. They are all married, and doing extremely well.

When I married this man he told me I wouldn't need a thing as he had everything, which was true, so I disposed of all my worldly goods and divided up everything, among my married children.

I am too old to make my own in the world now, and altho I don't expect a great deal, don't you think he owes me some security?

WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: Yes. And if he is as "kind, considerate, and generous" as you say he is, it is highly unlikely that he would leave you penniless should he die first. Does he know that it is possible for a wife to inherit more than her spouse had intended should he die first and leave nothing in writing? Tell him this, and he will probably break his neck getting to his lawyer.

DEAR ABBY: My mother has always taught me not to lie, but sometimes when one of her friends calls her on the telephone she asks me to say she isn't home when she is. Isn't that lying? I am 11 years old and all mixed up.

MIXED UP
DEAR MIXED: Yes, it is lying. Ask your mother if you may say, "Mother is busy now, may she call you back?"

DEAR ABBY: Everytime I mention planning my wedding, my mother changes the subject. She says it is a lot of fuss and

Pakistan, India Exchange War Scares

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The drums of war are beating again on the subcontinent. "Pakistan poised for fresh attack?" reads a headline on a New Delhi newspaper.

India plans to detonate a nuclear device, says a Pakistani note presented in the United Nations.

Pakistan armed forces have doubled their strength along the cease-fire line in Kashmir, a high-ranking Indian official tells American newsmen in a special briefing session in the Indian capital.

Pakistan delivers a protest note to India accusing it of a propaganda campaign aimed at creating a rift between Pakistan and African states.

This sudden — and serious — deterioration in relations between the two perennial feuding comes on the heels of what has been a steady downhill trend in Indian-Pakistani diplomacy since the two countries signed a peace pact at Tashkent in the Soviet Union last January.

It has chilled the likelihood of a ministerial level meeting over which the two have been parrying for months. The meeting was to have been held early this summer in India as a follow-up to one held in Rawalpindi in the post-Tashkent "honeymoon" period.

Western diplomats are keeping close watch on developments. At the moment, most of them view the word barrages from Rawalpindi and New Delhi as smokescreens to cover up other problems.

For instance, Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan is having trouble with his political opposition, particularly in East Pakistan, Pakistani newspapers are talking of the opposition gaining strength and mentioning the possibility that former Foreign Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto might return from Europe, where he ostensibly is seeking medical treatment, to head up the opposition.

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's government in New Delhi is also under strong attack from opposition as well as members of her own ruling Congress party for such things as devaluation of the rupee, liberalization of imports and food shortages.

The detailed announcement to American correspondents of a Pakistani military buildup in Kashmir is generally viewed as an attempt to frighten Washington out of a resumption of military aid to Pakistan.

The Indian official who talked to American correspondents said Pakistan was raising five new divisions, three of which he asserted were equipped with Communist Chinese weapons. He said armored regiments had been raised and moved into Pakistan-occupied Kashmir and that Communist Chinese were instructing guerrillas at a base on the Pakistan side of the cease-fire line.

This information, however, was not released to Indian newspapers and not formally presented to parliament. Defense Minister Y. B. Chavan did say in parliament that India was taking the "necessary steps" to prevent Pakistan from undertaking any "organized infiltration" in Kashmir of the type that touched off a war last September.

Chavan said that ever since the war Pakistan had been making "all-out efforts to increase its armed strength." But he made no mention of a doubling of strength in Kashmir.

Western intelligence sources say there has been a buildup in Pakistan armed strength, but that there has been no sudden or sizable increase, especially along the Kashmir cease-fire line. And they say India also has been building up possibly by two more army divisions as well as adding to its air and sea arsenals.

The Himalayan state of Kashmir is at the root of the trouble between India and Pakistan. The war last fall did nothing to solve the problem and events since have not moved the two any closer to a solution.

Pakistan says it is willing to pursue the high-level talks envisaged in the Tashkent agreement, but that since Kashmir is the underlying problem, it must be on the agenda.

India also says it is willing to talk but that there must be no preconditions. Furthermore, India says, Kashmir is a closed issue — it is part of India and not subject to discussion.

With these attitudes prevailing, there appears little hope of a reduction in tensions on the subcontinent in the foreseeable future.

New Massachusetts
Tax Take Misses Goal

BOSTON (AP) — Massachusetts collected $22 million in sales taxes in the first three months after the 3 per cent levy went into effect April 1, according to the State Tax Department.

Gov. John A. Volpe has said there is no cause for alarm in the figures which show that the tax is not yielding $12 million a month. Volpe contends that purchases during the final months of the year will push the monthly average yield to the $12 million monthly mark.

3,000 Kids
Scream at Beatle Show

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Beatles barely missed being mobbed Sunday night as nearly 3,000 screaming teenage fans surged to the stage at Cleveland Municipal Stadium.

The show was halted for about half an hour as the Beatles raced to a trailer behind the stage set up on second base. The crowd milled around the stage for about 15 minutes before returning to their seats at the prompting of police and a disc jockey.

"We'll stop the concert unless you move back," the disc jockey yelled into a microphone on the stage. "Hold it, move back."

Stadium officials said the onslaught of the screaming fans caused extensive damage to the Indians' infield.

They crushed a small fence police used to try to hold them back. About 100 of the 150 policemen on duty at the stadium to control the crowd of more than 24,000, rushed to the field to restore order.

The fans squealed their usual comments about the quartet, particularly about John Lennon, center of the recent controversy about a statement he made that the Beatles are more popular than Jesus.

Summer Lull
Labeled Over

CLEVELAND (AP) — Six straight weeks of steel production decline have ended, and output has risen in the last two weeks, marking an end to the summer lull in the industry, Steel Magazine said today.

Estimated ingot tonnage last week was 2.54 million tons—up 86,000 tons from the preceding week and 127,000 tons from the week ended July 30, the weekly journal of metalworking said.

The automobile industry expects to set production records in September and October, Steel said, adding that this will come on top of present good demand from other steel-consuming industries.

Leadtime on wide carbon plates are shorter, in spite of active steel buying by the construction industry and freight car builders, Steel said. Mill deliveries take four to six weeks, as compared to eight to ten weeks a few months ago.

"Demand is strong for galvanized sheets and aluminum-coated sheets and orders for them must be placed at least seven to eight weeks before the desired delivery date," Steel reported.

"Large sizes of merchant bars (particularly rounds three inches and over in diameter) are in strong demand for the production of shells for the defense department. Delivery dates extend into October and November.

My mother says if I do have a church wedding she won't come because she never went to any of my brothers' or sisters' weddings. (They were all married by justices of the peace.)

I dearly would love a church wedding, Abby, but what's a wedding without a mother? I asked Mom if she'd care if we went out of state and got married, and she said, "I wish you would." What do you think?

DEAR WANTS: Since you are able to pay for it yourself and your fiance's mother can help with the plans, go ahead and have your church wedding. Your mother (assuming she's well) is only being peevish and contrary. But I'll bet she wakes up in time to smell the orange blossoms.

Rudolph Credits Big Win To Tip from Johnny Pott

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — Just when Mason Rudolph was going to pot, Pott came to him and it paid off to the tune of $20,000.

That was the amount Rudolph pocketed Sunday by winning the $100,000 Thunderbird Golf Classic, the first tournament victory in two years for the soft-spoken 32-year-old pro from Clarksville, Tenn.

"Last week at the Cleveland Open I missed the money for the first time in a long while," Rudolph said. "But Johnny Pott, who's just about my closest friend, spotted on the practice tee before the final round that I was bringing the club through with my hands way too far behind the ball."

The subsequent adjustment resulted in the largest paycheck since Rudolph turned pro in 1958 and his first triumph since the 1964 Greater New Orleans Open.

Rudolph outplayed defending champion Jack Nicklaus in a head-to-head duel down the nationally televised stretch run and finished with a three-under-par 69 for the day and a total of 278, 10 under for the four rounds. Nicklaus was a stroke back and won $12,000. He needs less than $10,000 to become the third golfer ever to win a half-million dollars. Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper are the others.

Billy Martindale, the 27-year-old Texan who led Rudolph, Nicklaus and Tommy Aaron by two shots after three rounds, faded to a 74 Sunday and finished third, three strokes behind Rudolph and one ahead of Aaron.

Gary Player of South Africa, bidding to regain his 1965 form, tied for seventh at 285. Arnold Palmer, plagued on-and-off by bursitis in his left shoulder, finished in a tie for 11th at 286 and Billy Casper, the U.S. Open

Sulky Driver, 76, Due For State Fair Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The harness racing display at the Ohio State Fair will include special tribute to William N. McMillen of London, whose half-century in the sport includes 66 victories in state fair events since 1946.

McMillen, 76, will be honored for his accomplishments by the U.S. Trotting Association, which ranked him among the nation's 25 drivers seven consecutive years. He has won more than 1,000 races since the USTA was founded in 1939.

Everything's Rosy Now For Jets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Columbus bats are booming. Columbus pitchers are back in stride and suddenly everything's coming up roses for the Jets in their drive for a second straight International League pennant.

Since last Monday they have reeled off eight consecutive victories and today hold a three-game bulge over Rochester. Jet pitching has been superb, allowing 11 runs in the last eight games and posting three shut-outs. Jet hurlers have gone the distance in four successive games.

The home-run hitters have come alive, too, knocking 11 balls out of the park with Dave Roberts leading the assault.

Both the stunning pitching and long-range hitting went on display Sunday as Columbus blanked Jacksonville twice, 5-0 and 2-0, to tack a full game onto its lead over Rochester, which was rained out of a home game against Buffalo.

Ashville Girls Trip All-Stars

All-Star Team No. 1 of the Girls Softball League was topped by the Ashville Blue Babes in a game played at Ted Lewis Park.

Only all-star tilts remain on the schedule. General Electric finished the season in first place with a 7-3 record. Deeds Dairy and Lincoln Plastics were knotted for second with five wins and five defeats. Larry's Refuse Haulers, DuPont and J. W. Eshelmanns and Sons won four and lost six.

Tuesday All-Star No. 2 will battle the Blue Babes. That game will start at 6 p. m. on the main diamond at Ted Lewis Park.

PCC Holds Variety Of Weekend Tourneys

Pickaway Country Club held a variety of tournaments Saturday and Sunday.

In a low gross event Bruce Helwagen took top honors with a 70. Tim Dickinson was second with 71. Maynard Eaton fired a 71 to win a low net tournament. Steve Helwagen had 72 for second.

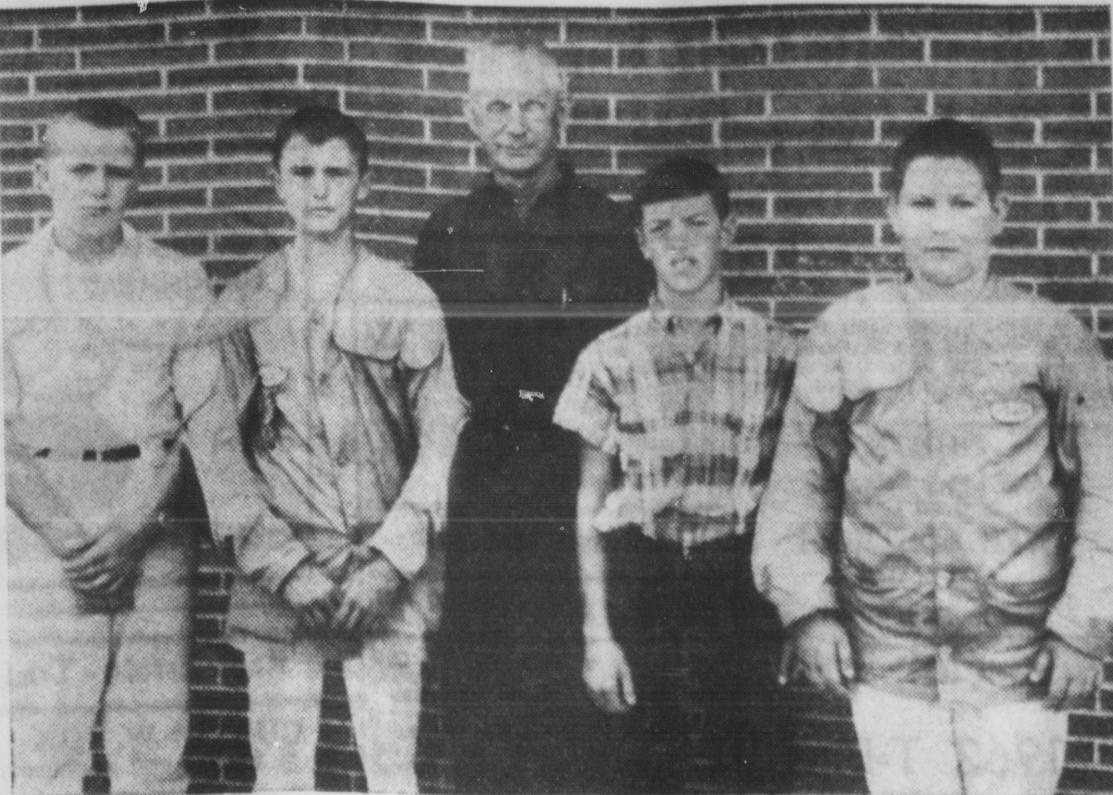

There was a three-way tie for winners in the blind bogey tournament. Steve Helwagen, Bill Adkins and Bob Keatley all hit the number with 74s.

Tuesday the Men's Golf League will stage a playoff with teams 1, 2 and 4 participating. Aug. 24 a banquet for regular and substitute team members of the Men's Golf League will be held. A chipping and putting contest will be featured.

Metal Brace Protects Namath's Ouchy Knee

The metal brace that holds Joe Namath's right knee together works.

How well it works may have been fully established Saturday night under the worst of circumstances when the New York Jets' $400,000 quarterback was located underneath Don Floyd, Houston's 245-pound defensive end.

Namath, however, suffered only a minor injury to his highly-publicized knee.

The action occurred at Birmingham, Ala., one of Namath's stamping grounds when he was a collegian at Alabama. And a crowd of 57,205 — the largest in American Football League exhibition history — was on hand to watch last year's Rookie of the Year.

But Namath never survived the first quarter. He limped off after being hit by Floyd and will be lost to the Jets for two to three weeks, or until their final exhibition game a week before the regular season opens.

The brace, however, may have protected Namath's knee enough to avert a serious injury.

Dr. James A. Nicholas, the Jets' team physician, called Namath's injury a minor strain behind the knee and said there was "no damage to the bony structure of the knee."

That was translated by a Jets' official to mean there was no cartilage or ligament damage, which would have been far more serious.

Mike Taliaferro took over at quarterback when Namath left, ran 10 yards for the Jets' only touchdown and in the fourth quarter twice moved them within field goal range. Jim Turner kicked a 38-yarder that broke a 10-10 tie, then added a 17-yarder.

In the only other AFL exhibition, Oakland defeated San Diego 14-7. In National League weekend action, Baltimore thumped Philadelphia 31-17. Minnesota crushed Pittsburgh 35-6. Dallas downed Los Angeles 20-10. New York edged Atlanta 14-7 and Cleveland whipped San Francisco 28-17.

The Raiders also won with a substitute quarterback as Tom Flores passed for two touchdowns including a 20-yarder to Art Powell with 54 seconds remaining. Flores took over for Cotton Davidson, who suffered a muscle spasm while recovering a fumble.

Johnny Unitas and his stand-in, Garry Cuozzo, each passed for two Baltimore touchdowns. Unitas hit John Mackey with a 40-yarder and Butch Wilson with a 32-yarder. Cuozzo penetrated the Eagles' defense on a 21-yard flip to Jimmy Orr and a 30-yard heave to Willie Richardson.

Bob Berry, former Oregon quarterback, worked all the way for the Vikings in their game at Portland, Ore., and connected with Lance Rentzel and Jim Lindsey on touchdown passes covering 32 and 20 yards. Jim Marshall and John Kirby each ran back an interception for other Minnesota scores.

Don Meredith and fleet Bob Hayes collaborated on the big play for the Cowboys, a 63-yard touchdown pass in the second quarter that gave Dallas an insurmountable 14-3 lead. Meredith also passed 33 yards to Pete Gent for a touchdown.

Earl Morrall passed for both Giants' scores, a two-yarder to Joe Morrison and a four-yarder to Homer Jones. Ron Smith scored for the Falcons on a 68-yard run with an interception. It gave him two of the three touchdowns the new Atlanta club has scored in three games.

Cleveland rushed out to a 21-0 lead, then coasted in against the 49ers. San Francisco didn't get on the scoreboard until the last minute of the first half. Leroy Kelly returned a punt 87 yard for one Brown touchdown, and Walt Roberts set up another with a 42-yard return.

9 Swimmers In Olympics

Nine members of the Circleville Swim Team participated in the Long Course Jr. Olympics at Lincoln Pool in Columbus during the weekend.

Six of the nine received awards. Winning first place gold medals were Beezzie Anderson in the 100-meter butterfly for girls 15-17 in 1:27. Eric Fortell missed the state record in the 100-meter breaststroke for boys 11-12 by two seconds in winning his event in 1:29.6.

Other winners for Circleville were Andy Rhoads, third; Craig Dresbach, fourth; Debbie Shea, fourth and Mark Ralston, fifth.

All swim team members and parents are reminded the carry-in dinner awards banquet will be 6 p. m. Sept. 4 at Ted Lewis Park. Swimmers who received awards during the season will be presented with them then.

Winless Redleg Pitcher on Block

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hank Fischer, winless in nine starts for the Cincinnati Red since he was acquired from Atlanta, is on the trading block, the Reds said Sunday.

The Reds said they will attempt to trade the 27-year-old right-hander who came to Cincinnati in exchange for pitcher Joey Jay.

Darrell Osteen was recalled from the club's Buffalo, N.Y., farm club to replace Fischer and is to join the team in Los Angeles today. Fischer did not make the West Coast trip with the Reds.

Stars Win On 1-Hitter By Speakman

The Circleville Little League All-Stars were victorious Saturday in the Teays Valley Tournament as Rich Speakman hurled a one hit, 6-3 win over the Teays Valley All-Stars.

Speakman struck out 10 and walked two. The lone hit was a double by S. Wilson.

Wilson handled pitching chores for Teays Valley. He issued three bases on balls, struck out seven and scattered five hits.

Terry Morrison tripled and doubled for the winners. Dave Truex added a triple and single. Greg Hoskins tagged Circleville's other hit, a single.

Both sides went scoreless through four innings. Circleville, batting in the last of the fifth, came up with six runs.

Teays Valley was cut short at three in the top of the finale.

Torres' Crown Is Up for Grabs

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — It's the old story of the puncher against the boxer tonight when Jose Torres of Brooklyn, N.Y., risks his world light heavyweight championship in a 15-round fight with the number two challenger, Eddie Cotton of Seattle, Wash.

The 30-year-old Torres can demolish an opponent with either hand, is a notorious body punisher, and remains a solid 7-2 favorite over the skilled Cotton, who at 40 is the oldest ranked fighter in the ring today.

Rudolph Credits Big Win To Tip from Johnny Pott

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — Just when Mason Rudolph was going to pot, Pott came to him and it paid off to the tune of $20,000.

That was the amount Rudolph pocketed Sunday by winning the $100,000 Thunderbird Golf Classic, the first tournament victory in two years for the soft-spoken 32-year-old pro from Clarksville, Tenn.

"Last week at the Cleveland Open I missed the money for the first time in a long while," Rudolph said. "But Johnny Pott, who's just about my closest friend, spotted on the practice tee before the final round that I was bringing the club through with my hands way too far behind the ball."

The subsequent adjustment resulted in the largest paycheck since Rudolph turned pro in 1958 and his first triumph since the 1964 Greater New Orleans Open. Rudolph outplayed defending champion Jack Nicklaus in a head-to-head duel down the nationally televised stretch run and finished with a three-under-par 69 for the day and a total of 278, 10 under for the four rounds. Nicklaus was a stroke back and won $12,000. He needs less than $10,000 to become the third golfer ever to win a half-million dollars. Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper are the others.

Billy Martindale, the 27-year-old Texan who led Rudolph, Nicklaus and Tommy Aaron by two shots after three rounds, faded to a 74 Sunday and finished third, three strokes behind Rudolph and one ahead of Aaron.

Gary Player of South Africa, bidding to regain his 1965 form, tied for seventh at 285. Arnold Palmer, plagued on-and-off by bursitis in his left shoulder, finished in a tie for 11th at 286 and Billy Casper, the U.S. Open

Champ who led the Thunderbird after two rounds, tied for 17th at 287.

Pott, Rudolph's benefactor, tied for 25th at 289.

Nicklaus shot ahead by a stroke on the second hole but Rudolph caught him on the fifth. A three-foot putt gave Nicklaus an eagle on seven, which Rudolph birdied. They both birdied 11 and bogeyed 12.

"After the 11th we looked at each other and said it was just the two of us," Nicklaus said. "Then we proceeded to make a bogey."

They were tied again when Nicklaus took another bogey on 13. The turning point came on 15, where Rudolph drove a six-iron to the green and sank a 15-foot putt for a birdie.

"That was a big putt," Rudolph admitted. "It looked like 50 feet long. It was so long since I'd been ahead in a tournament I wasn't sure I could hold it. Jack helped me a little bit on 17, though, when he three-putted from 35 feet for a bogey. This was the first tournament I ever won where I had to come from behind in the final round."

Sulky Driver, 76, Due For State Fair Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The harness racing display at the Ohio State Fair will include special tribute to William N. McMillen of London, whose half-century in the sport includes 66 victories in state fair events since 1946.

McMillen, 76, will be honored for his accomplishments by the U.S. Trotting Association, which ranked him among the nation's 25 drivers seven consecutive years. He has won more than 1,000 races since the USTA was founded in 1939.

Everything's Rosy Now For Jets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Columbus bats are booming. Columbus pitchers are back in stride and suddenly everything's coming up roses for the Jets in their drive for a second straight International League pennant.

Since last Monday they have reeled off eight consecutive victories and today hold a three-game bulge over Rochester. Jet pitching has been superb, allowing 11 runs in the last eight games and posting three shutouts. Jet hurlers have gone the distance in four successive games.

The home-run hitters have come alive, too, knocking 11 balls out of the park with Dave Roberts leading the assault.

Both the stunning pitching and long-range hitting went on display Sunday as Columbus blanked Jacksonville twice, 5-0 and 2-0, to tack a full game onto its lead over Rochester, which was rained out of a home game against Buffalo.

Ashville Girls Trip All-Stars

All-Star Team No. 1 of the Girls Softball League was topped by the Ashville Blue Babes in a game played at Ted Lewis Park.

Only all-star tilts remain on the schedule. General Electric finished the season in first place with a 7-3 record. Deeds Dairy and Lincoln Plastics were knotted for second with five wins and five defeats. Larry's Refuse Haulers, DuPont and J. W. Eshelms and Sons won four and lost six.

Tuesday All-Star No. 2 will battle the Blue Babes. That game will start at 6 p. m. on the main diamond at Ted Lewis Park.

PCC Holds Variety Of Weekend Tourneys

Pickaway Country Club held a variety of tournaments Saturday and Sunday.

In a low gross event Bruce Helwagen took top honors with a 70. Tim Dickinson was second with 71. Maynard Eaton fired a 71 to win a low net tournament. Steve Helwagen had 72 for second.

There was a three-way tie for winners in the blind bogey tournament. Steve Helwagen, Bill Adkins and Bob Kestley all hit the number with 74s.

Tuesday the Men's Golf League will stage a playoff with teams 1, 2 and 4 participating. Aug. 24 a banquet for regular and substitute team members of the Men's Golf League will be held. A chipping and putting contest will be featured.

Browns Still Haunted by Jim Brown

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Can the Browns survive without Jim Brown? Will Jim come rushing back to the rescue if the Browns falter at the gate? Did he mean it when he said he was through?

These are the questions that visitors kicked around at the Browns' training camp at Hiram College before the club left for the West Coast and a two-game exhibition series.

Art Modell, the owner of the club, insisted there was no chance that Brown would be back. He denied vehemently any suggestions that the Browns' retirement was a tie-in for movie publicity for The Dirty Dozen, the film Brown has been making in England.

"We do not expect Jim to come back," said Coach Blanton Collier. "We are going ahead, making our plans for the future without him. Certainly, we will miss Jim. He was the greatest running back of all time."

"We have Ernie Green and Leroy Kelly and we think we can find some more to go with them. We will run just as much as we did, perhaps more because there will be more need for deception in our offense. If I find out that we need to pass more, we will do it. But we certainly are not going into the season with the idea that we are strictly a passing team."

In addition to Green and Kelly, the Browns have Charley Scales of last year's team, plus rookies Charley Harraway of San Jose State, a 6-foot-2, 230-pound fullback; Randy Schultz, a 5-10, 210-pounder from Iowa State Teachers who has been handicapped by a pulled muscle; and Gary Lane, a quarterback at Missouri but a running back with the Browns.

There seems to be no question but that the Browns will do more passing with Frank Ryan at the controls and such fine receivers as Gary Collins, Paul Warfield and little Walt Roberts at his disposal.

Warfield, a sensation in his rookie season, missed practically the entire 1965 season after breaking his collarbone while playing against the College All-Stars last August. Warfield is himself again, ready to strike terror into all the right corner backs in the league.

Milt Morin, a 6-4, 250-pounder from Massachusetts who commanded a high bonus as the Browns' No. 1 draft pick, is expected to take over at tight end. He lost valuable time with the College All Stars. But the Browns think so highly of him that they moved Jim Brewer, the incumbent tight end, to the right linebacker job during the training season.

The offensive line, so highly rated by Collier, consists of Dick Schafrath and Monte Clark at tackles, John Wooten and Gene Hickerson at guards and John Morrow at center.

Collier has done some re-vamping in the defense which finished 13th in the league last year. Walt Johnson, a second year man, moves into a regular tackle job. Teaming with Jim Kanicki, Bill Glass and Paul Wiggins are still the ends. Frank Parker, a 6-5, 270-pound tackle who sat out last year after an operation, is being brought along slowly.

Erich Barnes is starting at the left corner and Walt Beach at the right corner with Bernie Parrish at free safety and Ernie Kellerman, Ross Fichtner at strong safety. Mike Howell is pressing the four deep men for a regular job.

If Brewer remains at right linebacker, ahead of Galt Fiss, the Browns will have a new face in that department. The veteran Jim Houston will be at the other side and Vince Costello in the middle.

Lou Groza, strong as ever at 42, has turned back all challengers for his field goal job and is ready to add to his record-breaking totals.

All Stock Of Cleveland Indians Sold

CLEVELAND (AP) — Vernon Stouffer, president and chief executive of Stouffer Foods Corp., is putting $5.5 million with a $2.5 million bank loan to purchase all the stock of Cleveland Indians Baseball Club.

He also intends to tear up a year-to-year contract with the city to lease the Cleveland stadium and sign one for 10 years.

Stouffer, 65, took over as head of the Indians Saturday. Sunday he spent most of his afternoon listening to the team lose a doubleheader to the New York Yankees.

Stouffer, a staunch civic leader who proudly says "I'm also president of the zoo," said, "maybe we can find some ball players there."

He said he would be willing to sign a 10-year lease "if the city goes through with its promise to spend the money needed to modernize the stadium."

Asked about the status of Birdie Tebbets as manager of the Indians, Stouffer said: "I know he's not popular with the fans. It's up to Gabe (Gabe Paul, president and general manager). He's giving the matter a lot of study and I know he'll make the right move at the right time."

U.S. Netters Cop Davis Cup Round

CLEVELAND (AP) — A pair of 6-foot-2 power hitters, Dennis Ralston and Clark Graebner, already had the Davis Cup Tennis American Zone championship wrapped up for the United States going into the last two singles matches today against Mexico.

In just 59 minutes between showers Sunday afternoon, the Ralston-Graebner partnership overpowered veteran Rafael Osuna and 5-foot-6, left-handed Joaquin Loyo-Mayo 6-1, 6-4, 6-0.

The Mexicans needed a doubles triumph to stay alive for the final day because they lost both singles matches Saturday in the best-of-five-point championship.

Fresh-Dated and Guaranteed Sunrise-Fresh!

Only Kroger fruits and vegetables carry both a Fresh-Dated and a Sunrise-Fresh Guarantee. Because most Kroger produce is double-sealed — first by nature — then by Kroger's CrisPak clear plastic film. This "second skin" keeps moisture and flavor in—air and fingers out. Get the double-sealed fruits and vegetables with the double guarantee—only at Kroger stores.
